Dear Friends of the Claremont Opera House:

Claremont Opera House has always been a place where the communities can connect with one another, catching up on news with old and new friends.

This year's season includes the return of comedian favorites Bob Marley and Juston McKinney, the traditional holiday favorite-The Nutcracker, the Army Field Jazz Band,

AND

School Shows, open to the public and very affordable at $5, Henry and Mudge, Slapstick Science-Flight, Seussical, and Lily's Crossing.

AND

many community and youth based programs.

NECA, New England Classical Academy, returns after two successful shows of Lion, Witch, and the Wardrobe and Arabians Nights, with what is sure to be an amazing non-musical version of Phantom of the Opera directed by director Heidi Fagen.

AND

the opera house once again opens its doors to The Performer's Playground, an award winning local youth based theatre company, which celebrates it's 10th anniversary this year by performing three of their productions here at the opera house:

Their fall classic series, Hamlet, A tale of Terror, adapted by TPP, their winter children's Lit series, A Little Princess, and their Spring Lit series, Willy Wonka, the Musical all directed by Shelly Hudson, a board member of the Claremont Opera House as well as the executive Director of the Greater Claremont Chamber of Commerce.

AND

Claremont Middle School returns with their February Drama Festival and their atrium art show.

AND

community theater with River Theater's Oliver.

AND

watch for upcoming dates on Connecticut River Valley Orchestra.

AND

Grace River Church Christmas Eve and Good Friday services and spiritual music.

AND

Jenkins annual dance recital

AND

to be sure, more on the way.

Showing community support through volunteering their time, COH board members, volunteer ushers, and staff have joined with parents and students to volunteer many hours from security & maintenance, painting, costume designing, sewing, ushering, lights, and even as backstage costume dressers when needed.

The growing connection between the Claremont Opera House, local theater groups and volunteers has resulted in a greater sense of camaraderie among neighboring towns.

Claremont Opera House strives to bring quality, affordable entertainment to the community during these challenging economic times.

Your financial support through your membership donations today will ensure that the Claremont Opera House can continue to bring affordable, quality entertainment to Claremont and the surrounding communities while building lasting friendships.

Please make your generous contribution today.

With much appreciation, Claremont Opera House Board of Directors

All Donations Are Greatly Appreciated!
